

Mark K. Bhasin
Vice-President
BASIS INVESTMENT GROUP LLC

Brief

Biography:

Mark K. Bhasin, CFA, FRM, CAIA is currently a Vice-President for Basis Investment Group, a multi-strategy commercial real estate finance platform that is an affiliate of JEMB Realty Corporation. He has spent more than 12 years in the financial and real estate sectors, including most recently serving as a Senior Director-Originations for Palisades Financial and as a CMBS loan officer for CWCcapital in New York. Prior to CWCcapital, Mark worked as an Associate at GMAC Commercial Mortgage and Financial Analyst at Paine Webber while also participating in PaineWebber's Investment Banking Training Program. While an undergraduate student at NYU, Mark worked part time for 2 years at Kidder Peabody in its CMO/MBS research and analytics group.

Mr. Bhasin is an Adjunct Professor of Real Estate Development at Columbia University where he lectures on real estate capital markets. In addition, he is a Lecturer at SUNY Stony Brook where he teaches an MBA corporate finance class. Bhasin is a graduate of New York University's Stern School of Business where he earned his Bachelor of Science degree in finance and accounting and Columbia University where he earned his Masters of Science degree in Real Estate Development. Mr. Bhasin is a CFA and CAIA charterholder and holds the FRM and PRM risk management designations. He is also a Level II candidate in the Chartered Market Technician (CMT) program. Mr. Bhasin is an active member of the Urban Land Institute (member of Urban Development Mixed Use Council-Gold and Treasurer of Northern New Jersey District Council), CFA Institute (CFA grader from 2007-2011 and active in curriculum development), Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst Association and New York Society of Security Analysts (Faculty member and Member of Alternative Investments Committee). He resides in northern Battery Park City and is an active member of the Young Patrons of Lincoln Center.