New development in NE Ohio and more will be discussed as we hear about 22 Exchange, the new student apartments serving the University of Akron. We'll examine how urban redevelopment often involves collaboration, whether via formal public-private partnerships or ad hoc collaboration to assist new development.

A Private Developer; The Akron University President and Mayor of Akron are our distinguished speakers and will offer their various perspectives on 22 Exchange and projects like it.

Tony O'Leary of the Akron Metropolitan Housing Authority and the University Park Alliance will analyze the various perspectives and provide a common theme.
