About The Long Play Panel:

Frank Bliss is the President of Cooper & Stebbins, L.P., a privately held real estate investment and development company with offices in Texas and California. Over the years, his duties have included acting as in-house legal counsel as well as contributions to partnerships, property acquisition and land use, research and analysis, development, finance, leasing and sales, operations, and asset management. Frank moved with the Company to Southlake, Texas in 1996, to start up Southlake Town Square, a 130-acre master planned development. From the opening of the first 250,000 sq. ft. in March of 1999, the project has grown to over 1.4 million sq. ft. today. With 2.0 million sq. ft. left to go, much remains to be done at the Square.

David Hill is the President of DH Investment Company, which he formed in 1983, to develop master-planed residential communities and commercial properties. In the years since, DHI has developed and managed a wide variety of real estate project throughout Texas and Louisiana, most notably including Cordillera Ranch in Boerne, Texas. DHI has been involved in the development of over 10,000 acres of residential properties including golf course communities and other high-quality single-family developments, focusing primarily on the Austin and San Antonio areas. Additionally, DHI has developed, owned and managed hundreds of thousands of square feet of income producing projects including major retails centers, office buildings, and multi-family properties.

Scott Polikov is a national leader advancing the New Economics of Place and is President of the Gateway Planning Group and managing director of Partnership for Livable Communities, LLC. Scott is a town planner and innovative finance consultant who established a national town planning practice focusing on the marriage of urbanism and the economics of transportation. Scott’s town planning work includes leading the design and implementation of walkable urban communities in all locations including suburban locales; as well as downtown redevelopment initiatives.
